

Ms Erin Cassell B.A. MPH is the former Director of the Victorian Injury Surveillance Unit (VISU), a position she held for 13 years before her retirement in 2012, and she now holds an Adjunct Research Fellow position at Monash Injury Research Institute (MIRI) at Monash University in Melbourne, Australia. Her major academic interests include injury surveillance systems development and related research, home, sport and child injury research, research related to older persons falls prevention, and the evaluation of injury prevention interventions with a particular interest in translating research to prevention. She received the 2006 Award for Meritorious Achievements in Research from the Australian Injury Prevention Network. She is a member of the Board of the Kidsafe Victoria.